We provide Fee-Only, hourly, as-needed financial planning and investment advice services to individuals from all walks of life and specialize in providing advice to individuals in their 20s through 70s. These services may be general in nature or focused on a particular area of interest or need, depending on the individual's unique circumstances.

An estimated 33% of our activities involve providing financial advice, which may include advice on income and expense planning, tax planning, insurance planning, estate planning, retirement planning and education planning, and an estimated 67% of our activities involve providing investment advice, which may include advice on asset allocation and investment selection.

Regarding the financial advice process, first, we gather information about the client's personal financial situation and then conduct a meeting with the client to clarify the client's personal financial information and determine the client's specific needs, objectives, goals and tolerance for risk. Then, we analyze the client's current financial situation and possible future scenarios, when appropriate. Next, we present a summary of significant observations, assumptions and recommendations in each area we were engaged to provide advice. The engagement is concluded upon completion of the presentation.

The client may re-engage us as needed. Periodic reviews are recommended and it is the client's responsibility to initiate these reviews.

Item 5 - Fees and Compensation

Bill Oakes EA, CFP® charges fees on a Fee-Only, hourly basis. Fees for financial planning and investment advice services are $230 per hour, billed in six minute increments. We may also charge fixed fees that are based on our hourly rate multiplied by the approximate number of hours that are anticipated to provide the requested service.

Fees are negotiable at our sole discretion.

We may require a deposit for engagements in the amount of the lesser of $500 or half of the total estimated fee. The balance of fees due is payable immediately upon presentation of the advice to the client. Fees will not be collected for services to be performed more than six months in advance and in excess of $500. For each engagement, proposed services and an estimated fee range are detailed in the written service agreement. Either party may terminate an engagement upon written notice within five days of signing the service agreement, at which time no fees are due. If the client terminates the engagement after this date, the client is responsible for any fees already incurred.

In connection with using our services, the client may also incur separate fees and expenses that are charged by mutual funds and/or exchange traded funds (ETFs). We recommend that the client review the investment prospectus for a complete explanation of these fees and expenses. In addition, the client may also incur separate transaction costs or administration fees from brokerage firms. We recommend that the client obtain a complete schedule of fees from their brokerage firm.

We do not receive any portion of these other fees. We do not receive commissions or third-party payments of any kind. The only compensation we receive is in the form of hourly fees paid directly by the client.

No fees are received for client referrals nor are any fees or other economic benefit received from non-clients in connection with giving advice to clients.

Item 6 - Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

Bill Oakes EA, CFP® does not charge fees based on a share of capital appreciation of the funds of an advisory contract, also known as performance-based fees. We also do not provide ongoing investment management services, so issues related to side-by-side management are not applicable.

Item 7 - Types of Clients

Advice provided on: exchange listed securities, corporate debt structures, certificates of deposit, municipal securities, investment company securities such as: variable life insurance, variable annuities, mutual fund shares, also US Government securities. We do not require minimums as to income, assets, net worth, length of engagement, revenues generated or other conditions for engaging our services.

Item 8 - Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

If Bill Oakes EA, CFP® is engaged to provide investment advice, first, we gather information about the client's personal financial situation and then conduct a meeting with the client to clarify the client's personal financial information and determine the client's specific needs, objectives, goals and tolerance for risk. We employ a fundamental, long-term, buy-and-hold philosophy in regards to investment advice. We favor a passive approach to investing.

Fundamental analysis is provided using the following sources of information: financial newspapers and magazines, research materials provided by others, corporate rating services, annual reports, prospectus and other filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission and Company press releases; client investment reports.

Then, we recommend a proper asset allocation based on the client's personal financial situation. We make asset allocation and investment policy decisions using our best judgment to help the client achieve their overall financial objectives and goals while minimizing risk exposure. We believe that the appropriate allocation of assets across diverse investment categories (i.e. stock vs. bond, foreign vs. domestic, large cap. vs. small cap., high quality vs. high yield, etc.) is the primary determinant of portfolio returns and is critical to the long-term success of a client's financial objectives and goals. Then, we recommend specific investments, primarily low-cost, no-load, index investments, to fill out the recommended asset allocation. Next, we recommend that the portfolio be maintained by rebalancing about annually and/or making adjustments as needed.

While we believe our investment strategy is designed to potentially produce the highest possible return for a given level of risk, it cannot guarantee that an investment objective or goal will be achieved. Some investment decisions made by us may result in loss, which may include the original principal amount invested. The client must be able to bear the various risks involved in investing, which may include market risk, liquidity risk, interest rate risk, currency risk or political risk, among others.

Low-cost, no-load, index investments have the potential to be affected by tracking error risk, which is defined as a deviation from the stated benchmark index.

We do not require or engage in directed brokerage involving our accounts.
